AVON HIGH SCHOOL

OUR AVON SCHOOL

There's always regret at the end of the trail;
There's grief that the journey is done;
The red of the morning is fairer to see
Than the gold of the setting sun.

School days must end -- the world heralds its call --
The dawn of a new life appears --
Yet we look back with longing and eyes half-way dim
At Avon School, whom we've known through the years.

Dear Avon School! -- Our memories are thronged
With hours of delight unalloyed,
With the banquets of learning, the feasts of renown,
Whose rare flavors we have enjoyed.

Goodbye, Avon School! The door opens outward;
Our echoing footsteps will pass,
But our love will stay green and rebloom through the years
With each member of this parting class.

For though there's regret at the end of the trail,
And grief that the journey is done,
The red of the morning we'll take and we'll mix
With the gold of the setting sun.

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1957, in loving memory, dedicate our annual to Marilyn Huffman, our classmate, who lives on in our hearts. Marilyn had a place all her own in the hearts of those who knew her. She went about the tasks assigned her, with a refreshing genuineness of personality and zest for living, which made her an instant friend to those she met along the way.

SENIOR TRIP

Sunday, April the twenty-eighth at 7:15 a.m., the senior class of Avon High School left Weir Cook Municipal Airport, via T.W.A. flight #40, Martin Skyliner, en route to Washington, D.C.

Breakfast was served to us promptly after take-off by the plane stewardess. We stopped in Dayton and Columbus to pick up more passengers.

We arrived at the National Airport in Washington at 10:32 a.m., where we were met by a special bus to begin the sight-seeing tour of some of the most educational points of interest in Washington, D.C.

Sunday night was spent at the Hotel Congressional, one of the newest hotels in Washington.

Monday afternoon and evening were free for our own personal interests, further sight-seeing, movies, or shows.

Monday night at 11:55 p.m. we left Washington in flight for New York. We arrived at La Guardia Airport in New York City at 1:47 a.m. and went directly to the Sheraton-McAlpin Hotel to spend the night.

Tuesday morning was spent sight-seeing in the many different educational points of the city. The afternoon and evening were free for Broadway shows, shopping, and additional sight-seeing.

Wednesday morning at 10:30 a.m. we boarded a yacht for a cruise around Manhattan Island. We were again free for shopping and other individual interests in the afternoon. At 5:00 p.m. we went on a conducted tour of the Empire State Building. At 6:00 p.m. we were entertained by a three hour show at Radio City Music Hall. Following the show we were transferred by special bus to La Guardia Airport, where we boarded T.W.A. flight #69, Martin Skyliner enroute for home.

We arrived in Indianapolis Municipal Airport at 3:29 a.m., Thursday morning.

It was a most enjoyable trip and in spite of drooping eyes and sleepy heads, everyone had a good time.

CLASS HISTORY

As of this day, May 14, 1957, twenty seniors have just reached the top of the very high Mountain of Knowledge. It has been a long, hard journey (having taken twelve years to complete,) but with the help of many faithful guides, we are none the worse for the trip.

We began our climb in September, 1945. Our party consisted of Charles Allen, Terry Birch, Rosalie Brown, Patrick Burnett, Harlan Clampitt, Cynthia Clossey, Sandra Duncan, Iva Eggers, Fanchon Francis, Jane Gerth, Carolyn Heckathorn, Jack Kepler, James Kern, Mary Lewis, Owen McDonald, Ruby Martin, Ray Muston, Susan Page, Joe Parrish, Charles Pence, Betty Price, Jean Quesenberry, John Ranck, Bob Reed, David Thomas, Jeanne Urick, Beverly Williams, Donna Miller, Ernest Brock, Dale Smith, Joan Smith, Tom Gentry, Bobby Troutman, Jean Wright, Diana Meunier, Irene Crouch, Carlene Burton, Mary Howard, and Charles Dede.

By the second step of our climb we had lost eleven but gained nine more who were Jackie Carter, James Coons, Garry Waggoner, Beverly Hugo, Sandra Ellis, Estes Martin, Marjorie Conner, Sara McDonald, and Joyce McGinnis.

During the third step of our journey, twelve failed to stay with us, and we gained Kitty Franklin, Glenda Jordan, John Wright, Bobbie Johnson, Carol Miles, Tildon Shields, Bobbie May, and Anita Jones.

As we traveled on, the climb grew steeper, but during our fourth year we lost none and gained Marilyn Huffman, Suzanne Montgomer, Pat Pharr, Robert Spear, Jerry Cooker, Rose Dodds, Robert Braggy, and Shelby Hash.

Trudging along in our fifth year, we picked up Eunice Bowman, Betsy Newkirk, James Ridenaur, Judy Roberts, James Robinson, Frances Sigman, Doris Smith, Phyliss Beavers, Beth Goodwin, Rollan Ross, Jerry Butram, and Fayette Smith.

In our sixth year we lost more and picked up Kent Bradley, Jerry Cooper, Larry Kinley, Eddie Miller, Lula Belle Moore, Marvin Moore, Garry Reeves, Marcia Rhees, Janet Rosier, Fern Tharp, Mike Ward, Sandra Watson, Lawrance Line, Jack Lang, Harry Frye, Rose Ham, Bonnie Heaggy, Barbara Jacobs, and Shelby Thomas.

In our seventh year we stopped to rest at a mountain stream. Some were so tired they decided to stay, but we met others to take with us who were Carrol Able, Lawrence Peters, Darlene White, Remona May, Harold Whitfield, and Jimmy Acton.

Along the way of our eighth year we picked up June Fred, Connie Hedge, Jacqueline Jarret, Neil Johnson, Judy Turner, Fern Abbott, Jewell Butler, and Glenda Marshall.

As we entered our ninth year the going really began to get rough, but it was much more exciting too, so we dug our spikes into the rock and traveled on. In that year we gathered Peggy Doolin, Duane Smith, and Carolyn Smith.

Our tenth year we gained Anita Cox and James Fink.

Our eleventh year we picked up Dean Hayden and Ernie Chapman.

We gained a few more members in our party the twelfth year, and now our class, Jimmy Acton, Kent Bradley, Rosalie Brown, Christine Chilcote, Anita Cox, Lavine Harrell, Dean Hayden, Roy Houchins, Glenda Jordan, Mary Lewis, Owen McDonald, Sara McDonald, Joyce McGinnis, Diana Meunier, Eddie Miller, Ray Muston, Lawrence Peters, Bob Reed, Marcia Rhees, Tildon Shields, and Fern Tharp, has reached the shining mountain peak capped with the smooth white snow of happiness and accomplishment, and as we look up into the sky of life through which we must now pass, we realize that although there must be a few clouds ahead, the sky is now as blue as can be, and the brilliant sun is shining brightly upon us all, the Avon Seniors, Class of '57.

CLASS PROPHECY

We, the Senior Class of Avon High School, in this year of nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, are entering in this big, wide world of experience to start hunting for success. Let's jump ahead about twenty years to see how successful these members have been.

We'll take a tour of the world in our jet-propelled rocket ship, which is the most common way of transportation now. Before boarding the ship we will go to Ayres for our space suits where we find, much to our surprise, that Glenda Jordan is the owner. She tells us that Christine Chilcote, now studies art in Paris and she lives with the famous fashion designer, Diana (Diana Meunier.)

After boarding the rocket ship, we find that our pilot is none other than Roy Houchins. His navigator is Lawrence Peters and the stewardess, Rosalie Brown.

We decide that our first stop will be in London, England. There we are met by the Prime Minister, who is Bob Reed. He takes us to one of the theaters where the leading lady is Lavine Harrell, who is starring in "The Kentuckian." We visit with her for awhile and then we're off to France.

On the Riveria, we are amazed to see one of our old classmates, Jimmy Acton, who is a world renowned beauty contest judge. Jimmy tells us he is very devoted to his work and hopes someday to be judge of the Miss Universe Contest again, as he has already judged four contests.

Leaving France we decide to go to Spain where we see much to our surprise, Sara McDonald who is in Europe traveling with her husband, the Secretary of State, of the U.S.

Near Madrid, our rocket breaks down and the world famous rocket mechanic, Dean Hayden, is rushed from Tibet, where he is hiding out from Plainfield. On the spot, covering this world shaking event, is Mary Lewis, editor of the LOWER SLOBIVIA ECHO. Dean couldn't seem to fix the rocket ship so the most famous scientist in the U.S., Professor Fintimo Bradley (Kent) is sent for. By a happy coincidence, the five time winner of the 500 mile race in Indianapolis, Eddie Miller, zooms in. He soon has the rocket in good order.

We travel on to Italy and find among the ruins, a famous archeologist, Joyce, "The Rock" McGinnis. She tells us her husband has control of several Dairy Companies in the U.S. and abroad.

In Venice, we take a ride in a gondola. Our boatman has the best singing voice in all Venice. We take a second glance and discover him to be our old classmate, Tildon Shields.

After visiting with Tildon, we head for home. On arriving at the rocket port in New York, we are met by the owner of our rocket ship, Ray Muston. He now owns approximately 3,000 ships.

Ray has with him Marcia Rhees, who manages the largest publishing house in the U.S. She invites us to dinner at her Park Avenue pent house.

As for the authors of this document, they were among the guests at Marcia's. Both of them are best seller novelists in Upper Slobivia, and have written such works as "Twenty Years In A Jail Cell," and "Gone and Forgotten." Anita and Owen Co-Authored with Mrs. Allshouse in writing the article on "Why I Quit Teaching," and "Oh, Those Seniors!"

CLASS WILL

We, the graduating class of 1957, Avon High School, do hereby will and bequeath the following things to the following people provided they fulfill all the requirements.

ARTICLE I

I, Jim Acton, do hereby will and bequeath my quiet manner to Lloyd Acton, provided he doesn't get the Good Citizenship Award more than twice.

I, Kent Bradley, do hereby will and bequeath my rip roarin' shouting attitude at the ball games to Bill Lane, provided he practice eight hours a day.

I, Rosalie Brown, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to leave Avon as a freshman and to return as a senior, to my sister, Judy, provided she doesn't go any farther west than Arizona.

I, Christine Chilcote, do hereby will and bequeath my cheerleading in my senior year and my nickname "Primp" to Julia Burdge, provided she touches her head every time she jumps and lives up to the nickname.

I, Anita Cox, do hereby will and bequeath my speed in shorthand to Margaret Tharp, provided she practices at least six hours a day.

I, Lavine Harrell, do hereby will and bequeath my typing class to Norma Muncy provided she doesn't make any mistakes on the stencils and dittos.

I, Dean Hayden, do hereby will and bequeath my old Ford to Jerry White, hoping he can use the spare parts for his car.

I, Roy Houchins, do hereby will and bequeath my height to Tracy Crump, provided he make a good center for next year's basketball team.

I, Glenda Jordan, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to hit sour notes on the piano at the wrong time, to Nancy McClain, provided she doesn't break my record.

I, Mary Lewis, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go about freely to Bill Jones, provided he doesn't get out of more than six classes a day or have over two dates in one night.

I, Owen McDonald, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get A's from Mr. Davis to Dennis Bradford, provided he vote straight Republican.

I, Sara McDonald, do hereby will and bequeath my place on Block's High School Fashion Board to Myrna Roseboom, provided she doesn't miss three meetings in a row.

I, Joyce McGinnis, do hereby will and bequeath my office practice to Beverly Shew, provided when she answers the phone she finds out who it is and what they want.

I, Diana Meunier, do hereby will and bequeath my cheerleading to Betty Jo Gerth, provided she practices every hour of every day as I have done the last four years.

I, Eddie Miller, do hereby will and bequeath my Mickey Mouse hat to Mary Jackson, provided she doesn't bend the ears off of it.

I, Ray Muston, do hereby will and bequeath my spot on the basketball team to Eddie Blair, provided he gets at least ten rebounds every game.

I, Bob Reed, do hereby will and bequeath my position as mimeograph operator to Larry Brinker, provided that he polish it at least once a day

I, Marcia Rheese, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go steady and never argue to Grace Ann Kemp, provided she doesn't argue with Charlie Bill more than once a day.

I, Tildon Shields, do hereby will and bequeath my 1937 Pontiac to Larry Miller, provided he will keep it in as good a condition as I have.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. McLain, we will our flatop hair cuts.
To Mrs. McCormick, we leave all of our money making schemes for our Senior trip.
To Mrs. Mitchell, we will our ability to look like we are busy when doing nothing.
To Mr. Davis, we will a life size portrait of Ike for his government class.
To Mrs. Allshouse, we will all the periods we were not in class.
To Mr. McIntire, we will him our loss of appetite after his third period class.
To Mrs. Huffman, we leave all of our pencils from our scholarship tests.
To Mrs. Dugan, we leave a bottle of aspirin for all of our mistakes.
To Mrs. Caplinger, we leave a big glow of sunshine.
To Mr. Ross, we leave a great big assignment.
To Mr. Lovell, we leave memories of the 1957 baseball championship.
To Mr. Owen, we leave a bigger and better band.
To Mr. Rogers, we leave the memories of the Seniors.
To Mrs. Hadley, we leave all the good smell in the Home Ec. room.
To Mrs. Thomas, we leave all of our over due books.

ARTICLE III

To the JUNIORS, we leave our ability to sell things at the ballgames providing they don't go more than two places on their Senior trip.

To the SOPHOMORES, we leave all of our brains, providing they get A's every six weeks.

To the FRESHMEN, we leave all of their odd looking initiation costumes.
